MESSAGE TO OUR MEMBERS

The 2011-2012 fiscal year was remarkable in many ways including the addition of highly significant art works into the permanent collection, an exhibition schedule of incredible variety, exciting educational offerings for all of our audiences, and the generous and strong support from the City of Montgomery, private foundations, government agencies, corporate and individual sponsors and our growing membership.

Due to the generosity of donors of art or of funds for purchases, 2011-2012 saw the acquisition of many important works of art including American paintings by Roger Brown, George Inness, and Stephen Scott Young; sculptures by Karen LaMonte, Frank Fleming, and Mary Edmonia Lewis; works on paper by John James Audubon, John Kelley Fitzpatrick, and Sam Francis; folk art by Thornton Dial, Sr., William Dawson, and Yvonne Wells, among dozens of other unique works.

The MMFA is proud of its ongoing efforts to bring the widest selection of special exhibitions possible to Montgomery. During the last year we were delighted to present: 1934: A New Deal for Artists, The Art of Seating: Two Hundred Years of American Design, Loïs Mailou Jones: A Life in Vibrant Color, Dale Nichols: Transcending Regionalism, Divining Nature: Watercolors by Walter Inglis Anderson, and Fabulous Flatware, as well as a series of exhibitions from the Paul R. Jones Collection of American Art at The University of Alabama.

Thanks to the enormous efforts of the Board of Trustees, our members and volunteers and especially the 2012 Art Auction Committee and the Art Auction Selection Committee, this biannual fund-raiser earned a net profit of $115,000, an increase over the previous Art Auction during a difficult economic period. The proceeds of this event, as usual, were directed to the acquisitions, exhibitions, and education programs of the MMFA. Special thanks to our long-term sponsors and friends at Merrill Lynch and the generous in-kind support from Reid/O’Donahue Advertising Inc. and Wells Printing Company. Other special events included the annual Holiday Open House, Director’s Circle Dinner, Flimp Festival, Military Open House, Annual Artists Market, and in the last year an outdoor concert organized and presented by our new Junior Executive Board.

We sincerely appreciate the commitment of the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts Association and City Boards, Junior Executive Board, and their committees, and our wonderful corps of docents and volunteers for their participation and enthusiastic support of just about everything that happens at this museum. These good people generously donate their time, dollars, and expertise so that our talented staff will have the tools necessary to provide first class opportunities to our visitors, including tens of thousands of school students on a yearly basis.

As a department within the City of Montgomery, it is an honor to recognize Mayor Todd Strange and the City of Montgomery, and its many departments, as well as the City Council for their enormous and steadfast commitment and support. Without the financial assistance from our government agencies, including the Alabama State Council for the Arts, along with numerous other public and private granting agencies, and our Corporate Partners and Museum members, this institution would be unable to provide our community with consistently high-quality offerings throughout the year.
DEVELOPMENT

The Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts is indebted to its over 1,500 members who give so generously to allow us to fulfill our mission to collect, preserve, exhibit, and interpret art of the highest quality for the enrichment, enlightenment, and enjoyment of its public. Donations through membership from individuals and families as well as our Director’s Circle and Corporate Leadership Society increased 14% over last year to provide crucial funds for acquisitions, exhibitions, and educational programming. The Museum continues to strengthen our funding relationships with local, regional, and national foundations.

On April 16, Mark Johnson welcomed 200 members to the annual Director’s Circle Dinner with long-time dinner sponsors Margaret and Jimmy Lowder from The Colonial Company and Gene and Ray Ingram from Jack Ingram Motors and Mercedes Benz USA. On September 6 we welcomed 75 members of our Corporate Leadership Society to a reception that featured several of our recent acquisitions.

The 2012 Art Auction and Art Selection committees worked tirelessly to produce an auction with net profits in excess of $115,000, a 12% increase over 2010. Lucy Jackson’s strength as Art Auction Chair resulted in a sold out Live Auction and over 300 people at the Silent Auction cocktail party. Art Selection Chair Camille Elebash-Hill traveled the country with her committee gathering consignments of more than 525 pieces from galleries in Santa Fe, NM; Charleston, SC; New York City, NY; New Orleans, LA; and Atlanta, GA. Art Auction dollars directly benefit MMFA operations.

The Museum is grateful to Merrill Lynch, Reid O’Donahue Advertising, Inc., and Wells Printing Company for their long-standing relationships with the MMFA and event sponsorships. Additionally, this event would not have been possible without the Art Auction and Art Selection committees and more than 100 volunteers who played a role in the event’s success.

Members enjoyed unique programming throughout the year. Members’ openings had increased attendance, with our largest summer show opening ever for Fabulous Flatware: Non-traditional Tools of the Table and Divining Nature: Watercolors by Walter Inglis Anderson. Over 50 members of Collectors Society enjoyed six meetings, including visits to private homes, museum galleries, and studios. Presenters included collectors Sandra and Joe McInnes, Pat and Watt Jones, and Carolyn Wade, artists Ke Francis and Gary Chapman, Susan Crawley of the High Museum, specialist Spalding Nix, and MMFA curators.

On Friday, April 20, 2012 twenty patrons accompanied by Museum staff enjoyed an ARTrip to the High Museum of Art (HMA) in Atlanta, GA. The day commenced with a delightful lunch at South City Kitchen in downtown Atlanta followed by a private tour of Bill Traylor: Drawings from the Collections of the High Museum of Art and the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts by HMA Curator of Folk Art Susan Crawley. Participants also viewed the temporary exhibition, Picasso to Warhol, comprised of 100 masterworks from the collection of the Museum of Modern Art in New York City.

EDUCATION

The Education Department diversified program offerings, forged new partnerships, and launched new tour programs.

ARTWORKS CORRIDOR EXHIBITIONS

During this past year a committee of Museum curators, artists and art teachers selected 228 drawings, paintings, and sculptures from a total of 575 entries created by kindergarten to high school students from 38 public and private schools in the state. The corridor exhibitions corresponded to the following Museum exhibitions: 1934: A New Deal for Artists; Works by Self-Taught Artists from the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts Permanent Collection; Lois Mailou Jones: A Life in Vibrant Color; Divining Nature: Watercolors by Walter Inglis Anderson.

The ARTWORKS corridor opening receptions were very popular, attended by 310 students and their families. The purchase of 11 student works of art from the corridor exhibitions were added to the permanent student art collection. As a special honor this year, three works of art from the student art collection were exhibited at the U.S. Department of Education in Washington, DC during May and June, as a part of the Department of Education and Association of Art Museum Directors exhibition.

FAMILY PROGRAMS

Special family days were held on six Sundays during the year, in addition to the annual Holiday Open House, FLIMP Festival, and Military Open House. These family art affairs, featuring hands-on art activities and music (Jazz Jams), attracted a diverse audience, averaging 65 to 1,500 people for each event. The fall pumpkin-carving Family Day was especially popular, with 200 in attendance. During the annual FLIMP Festival in May, 273 students and adults participated in the Chalk Art Competition.

The BTW (Booker T. Washington) Dance Theater, under the direction of Gary Moore, performed Money, Money, inspired by the Museum exhibition 1934: A New Deal for Artists. 300 students attended the two extraordinary performances, which were followed by guided tours of the featured exhibition.

Studio classes taught by 20 different professional teachers were offered in drawing, painting, ceramics, sculpture, stained glass, jewelry-making, and iPad usage, and were attended by 1,653 children, youth, and adults during the year. Five weekend workshops with in-depth instruction by well-known guest artists in watercolor, encaustic, oil portraits, and landscape painting techniques were especially popular.
The four weeks of summer art camps were often filled with excited students, some attending half-day and others full-day. Each camp emphasized different works of art in the Museum and ended with an exhibition of the students’ works and reception for the families.

OUTREACH

4,024 people in the community participated in outreach efforts by the education staff, docents, and outreach teachers during the year.

Art in the Afternoon, the Museum’s outreach program created for community centers in the city’s Weed and Seed target areas and sponsored in part by a grant from the Alabama State Council on the Arts, offered after-school art classes to more than 500 students during the school year at the E.D. Nixon Community Center, Cleveland Court Community Center, and Bertha P. Williams Rosa Parks Avenue Branch Library. During the classes students had the opportunity to work with guest artists in creating landscape paintings, chair sculptures made from recycled materials, handmade books, and linoleum block prints. At the culmination of the school year, an art exhibition was held at the Armory to showcase the work of students from E.D. Nixon and Cleveland Court Community Centers.

The Connections program offered art classes to more than 300 students during the summer at Floyd Community Center, E.D. Nixon Community Center, and Bertha P. Williams Rosa Parks Avenue Branch Library. Art teachers trained by the Museum taught the students new techniques in drawing, painting, ceramics, and sculpture, with the lessons related to temporary or permanent exhibitions at the Museum. Once in every session during the year all the students came for a field trip to the Museum, to view first-hand the works of art they had studied and to create a special art project in the studios.

Museum docents led pre-tour outreach sessions, visiting 30 schools and 108 classes of fifth grade students. They also helped with the following outreach art activities: Governor’s Square Library and Bell Road YMCA (245 students), Jubilee Kidsfest (150 participants), Zoo Earthday (440 students), Eastdale Mall Family Night (163 participants), Helicity Family Night and Arts Gone Wild (100 participants).

The Traveling Art Suitcases were loaned out and viewed by 270 students at several schools during the year. A new suitcase was completed this year, featuring various methods and techniques of printmaking, along with reproductions of prints from the Museum’s permanent collection and suggested lesson plans.

PROGRAMS FOR TEENS AND ADULTS

Year-Round Programs

AP Art History (meets daily): Six high school juniors and seniors graduated from the AP Art History class in the spring of 2012, and 10 students began the 2012-2013 academic year. Participating schools include: Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School, LAMP Magnet High School, and Trinity Presbyterian School.

Junior Curators: In partnership with BTW Magnet High School, 11 Junior Curators met with staff to begin their year-long process of curating a Museum exhibition to be held in the spring of 2013.

Teen Council: A teen council was formed with representatives from many local high schools to advocate for teen programs and design a teen-centered event in the spring of 2013.

ARTtalk

Six times during the year artists had the opportunity to bring a work of art to the Museum, show it to other artists and those interested in art, and have friendly feedback about the work. Each time, 12 to 15 people participated in these informative and fun sessions.

Art Ed Central

Art Ed Central, a regional division of the Alabama Art Education Association, met monthly during the school year at the Museum, offering an opportunity for teachers and guest artists to share lesson plan ideas, view art in the Museum’s galleries, create hands-on art projects, network with other professionals, and earn certification credit hours. An average of 10 teachers attended these monthly meetings.

Ekphrasis

In its first full year, the monthly book club Ekphrasis attracted more than 50 members; eight meetings were held. Several authors of featured books phoned in for discussions with the group: Susan Vreeland (Clara and Mr. Tiffany), Debra Dean (The Madonnas of Leningrad) and Jack Flann (Matisse and Picasso: The Story of Their Rivalry and Friendship).

Lectures, Gallery Talks, and Symposia

Lectures: The five lectures presented at the Museum were attended by 286 people. Presenters included Graham Boettcher of the Birmingham Museum; Carla Hanzal of the Mint Museum; Tim Brown, MMFA Curator of Education; artist Caleb O’Connor; and collector Dr. William Hood.

Gallery Talks: The 10 gallery talks held at the Museum were attended by 221 people. Included in the talks was the popular Evening with the Curator series. Presenters included artists Gary Chapman and High 5 Productions and Museum Curators.
EDUCATION  Continued

Bill Traylor in Montgomery: The symposium on Bill Traylor was attended by 75 people. Presenters included Margaret Lynne Ausfeld, Susan Crawley of the High Museum of Art, Hardy Jackson of Jacksonville State, local historians Richard Bailey and Mary Ann Neeley, and keynote speaker Lowery Sims of the Museum of Art and Design.

Ekphrastic Writing Workshop: In partnership with BTW Magnet High School, 15 students attended 3 sessions crafting original prose and poetry in response to works of art on view at the Museum. The reading of the students’ work was attended by 40 people.

TOURS

Montgomery Public School Tours
Tours of the Museum are provided to both fifth graders and kindergarteners of the Montgomery Public School system free of charge. Throughout the year, the docents led pre-tour outreach sessions, visiting 30 schools and 108 classes of fifth grade students in Montgomery Public Schools. Following the docent visits, 2,477 Montgomery Public School fifth graders toured the Museum’s permanent collection and created landscape art projects in the studios. “The American Scene,” the curriculum-based tour launched in the fall 2012, included a role-playing component. In the spring, 4,408 kindergarten students enjoyed the puppet show and Peekaboo Street tours.

Other Tours
The Museum formed a Visual Thinking Strategies (VTS) tour program in partnership with the Montgomery Academy. For the upcoming fiscal year, we expect several hundred students from Montgomery Academy to participate in tours and studio activities based on VTS methods of engagement, including facilitated discussion with open ended questions, and student-centered responses that promote critical thinking and oral communication skills. The Museum is also planning to host a Docent Symposium in the spring of 2013 that will offer VTS training and workshops for docent, teachers, and museum educators. By the fall of 2013, we plan to offer VTS tours among our general tour offerings. Sundays at One, a free docent-led tour held on Sundays from 1 to 2 P.M. hosted over 1,100 visitors during the 2011-2012 year. In addition, docents and staff led 6,269 participants in gallery tours.

DOCENT PROGRAM

There were 37 daytime training sessions and events and five evening training sessions for the Museum’s docents. An average of 30 participants attended docent education sessions. Six new docents graduated in the spring, and six new participants joined the program for the 2011-2012 year.

MARKETING AND PUBLIC RELATIONS

The MMFA continued its strong partnership with local, regional, and national media. Special thanks to WSFA, WAKA, WAPZ, WTSU, Boom!, Cumulus Broadcasting, Knology, The Montgomery Advertiser, River Region Living, Montgomery Parents, Pride Montgomery, Prime Montgomery, and RSVP Montgomery. These promotional efforts, along with continued press coverage of exhibitions and programs, led the Museum to an attendance of 142,046 and $83,000 in earned printed media for 2011-2012.

On Exhibit, the quarterly members’ magazine with a circulation of over 1,800, chronicled the special exhibitions and events taking place at the Museum.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Unique, sophisticated, and memorable wedding receptions, rehearsal dinners, corporate dinners and presentations, school performances, and professional concert series; over 100 events were held at the Museum in the past year raising $152,444 to support a host of Museum programs. In addition to private events, the Museum hosted opening receptions for exhibitions, Jazz Jams, Military Open House, Holiday Open House, DiVine Lunch, Artist In Action, the third annual Artist Market, and the 22nd annual Flimp Festival.

MUSEUM STORE

The Museum Store has completed three successful years of operation as a hand-crafted, gallery-style space and continues to grow and develop. The Store represents more than 100 local and regional artists, as well as a few artists from across the country. Artist Market, an art fair held the weekend before Thanksgiving had a second year of success and will continue as an annual event. The Store also provides opportunities for the community to interact with local artists and see them at work through a program called Artist in Action, which takes place the first Wednesday and third Saturday of the month.
FINANCIAL

The 2011-2012 audited financial report for the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts reflects another successful year. The combined public and private operating income totaled $3,782,293.
