Clearly the most exciting event of the past year was the celebration of the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts’ 25th Anniversary in the Winton M. Blount Cultural Park.

The MMFA’s history actually began with its founding in 1930 in an abandoned school house in downtown Montgomery. The first year’s expenses of $5,000 were paid by the City. In 1959 we moved into the new Library – Museum Complex and started building collections. Many of our earliest gifts came from close to home and document local subjects by local artists – such as Kelly Fitzpatrick (also our first director), Anne Goldwaite, and Zelda Fitzgerald.

By 1988 the Museum accepted a gift of land for a new state-of-the-art facility and approximately 50 artworks from Winton “Red” Blount’s collection. With significant support from a private and public coalition, especially the leadership and support from Mayor Emory Folmer and the City of Montgomery, along with Commissioner Bill Joseph and the Montgomery County Commission, the Museum has evolved into one of the finest museums in the Southeast.

Important gifts from local collectors, including Bucks and Jean Weil, Jim and Joan Loeb, Charles and Babette Wampold and Ida Belle Young, have greatly expanded the works in our galleries and the quality of our collections over the past 25 years. We added the Weil Graphic Arts Study Center in 1998 and the impressive Education and Exhibition wing in 2006.

We’ve come a long way in the last quarter century and will soon break ground on a Sculpture Garden that will add a significant new dimension to our facility and our programs.

The outstanding strengths of the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts include leadership, such as that from Mayor Todd Strange, and support from the City and other government agencies along with impressive private support, vision, and hard work from an enthusiastic Board, a great staff, dozens of volunteers, and hundreds of dedicated sponsors, donors, and members.

We thank you for your past support and hope it will continue for the next 25 years.

Barrie H. Harmon III, President

Mark M. Johnson, Director
CORPORATE LEADERSHIP SOCIETY AND DIRECTOR’S CIRCLE CAMPAIGN

On April 15, Mark Johnson welcomed a record crowd of 210 members to the annual Director’s Circle Dinner with long-time sponsors Margaret and Jimmy Lowder from The Colonial Company and Gene and Ray Ingram from Jack Ingram Motors and Mercedes Benz USA. Guests viewed the newly acquired Still Life with Mixed Flowers and Bird’s Nest by Severin Roesen. On June 25, we welcomed members of our Corporate Leadership Society to a reception highlighting Excavating Architecture: Projects by Lead Pencil Studio. In total, corporate and individual memberships at the Museum have increased by more than 60% over the last year in large part due to the efforts of the MMFA Board Development Committee led by Laura and Barrie Harmon.

COLLECTORS SOCIETY

The 9th season of the MMFA Collectors Society kicked off with a private luncheon lecture on October 5 featuring famed glassmaker Stephen Rolfe Powell. This 52-member group met six times throughout the year and made four road trips to view collections in other cities. Highlights included a private tour in Selma, AL of Tiffany windows and mosaics designed by Clara Weaver Parrish by Dr. Gery Anderson; a trip to Birmingham, AL to tour Dr. David and Nan Skier’s home with works from the Ashcan School painting collection as well as Carnetta and Norm Davis’ collection of English antiques, Ashcan School paintings, and John Singer Sargent drawings in Columbus, GA.

BAZAAR d’ART

On March 7, the Museum transformed the Foyer and Rotunda into a lush Turkish marketplace. Some 300 guests enjoyed bidding on hundreds of silent auction items at Bazaar d’Art sponsored by Welch Hornsby Investment Advisors. Chair Ashley White and her committee far exceeded expectations, netting in excess of $50,000 in profits to be used on future acquisition, exhibition, and education programs.

ARTrip

MMFA patrons traveled in style on ARTrips to Atlanta, GA and Jackson, MS. Guests visited the High Museum in Atlanta to see Frieda and Diego: Passion, Politics, and Painting – works rarely on view outside of Mexico. On August 13 patrons traveled to Jackson, MS to tour Old Masters to Monet: Three Centuries of French Painting from the Wadsworth Atheneum at the Mississippi Museum of Art. The trip concluded with a special opportunity to walk through the Eudora Welty House.
ART IN CONCERT AND MIXED MEDIA

The Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts’ newly founded Junior Executive Board (JEB) led by 2012 JEB President Hannah Chadee planned the successful fundraiser, Art in Concert, on November 16. The event, held in conjunction with the 3rd annual Artist Market, featured music by the Dexateens and Fly Golden Eagle. More than 750 people visited the Museum that evening, and event proceeds resulted in the JEB purchase for the collection of a free-blown glass piece created in 1999 by Joey Kirkpatrick and Flora Mace called Purple Plum. 2013 JEB President Jason Goodson spearheaded efforts to organize Mixed Media, a group with quarterly afterhours events for young professionals. The Art of Food, the final Mixed Media event for the year held on September 11 at True Restaurant with Jackson Thornton & Co., PC’s Young Professional group, featured hors d’oeuvres inspired by works from the Material Transformations exhibition with special guest artists Alison Foshee, Rune Olsen, and Paul Villinski.

MAJOR GIFTS

The Museum was honored to receive two flagship gifts in 2012-2013 from the Hearst Foundations in New York, NY and the Poarch Band of Creek Indians. The Hearst Foundations grant supports existing and new K-12 education programs, most notably the Artist in Residence pilot program. The Poarch Band of Creek Indians’ gift provides critical funding to exhibition programs. These partnerships translate into an increased ability for the Museum to further its mission and share the collection, exhibitions, and art education with a greater audience.

ARTWORKS CORRIDOR EXHIBITIONS

Entries: 565; Selected Works: 236; Receptions: 400 people

Each year there are a large number of student art entries for ARTWORKS Corridor competitions, and this year was no exception. From a total of 565 entries, a committee of Museum professionals, artists, and art educators selected 236 works of art for five exhibitions. The drawings, paintings, photographs, prints and sculptures were created by students in kindergarten through college, and submitted by 32 teachers in public and private schools, including some from Selma, Eufaula, Tuscaloosa, and Sylacauga. The corridor exhibitions corresponded to the following Museum exhibitions: Accumulations: The Art of Joelle Ford and Stephen T. Johnson, Thornton Dial: Thoughts on Paper, Joe Price Prints, and Winfred Rembert: Amazing Grace. During March and April, art created by students enrolled in Advanced Placement (AP) classes in four public and private high schools in the area were displayed, and selections from the MMFA Student Art Collection were also exhibited during April and May. In addition, a special exhibition of sculpture models by Auburn University at Montgomery (AUM) and Montgomery Academy high school students was displayed in the Balcony Gallery during the summer in connection with the Museum exhibition Excavating Architecture: Projects by Lead Pencil Studio.

The ARTWORKS Corridor opening receptions were even more popular this year, attended by nearly 400 students and their families. Adding a special recognition ceremony during the September 2013 opening of Patterns and People resulted in the auditorium being filled with 165 people! Ten works of art from the corridor exhibitions were purchased for the permanent Student Art Collection, thanks in part to a special private gift for this purpose.

OUTREACH

Art in the Afternoon: 555 participants; Connections: 380 participants; Zoo Earth Day and Maxwell Air Force: 650

Art in the Afternoon, the Museum’s outreach program created for locations in the city’s Weed and Seed target areas and sponsored in part from a grant from the Alabama State Council of the Arts, offered after-school and summer art classes to more than 350 students during the year at E.D. Nixon Community Center and Bertha P. Williams Rosa Parks Avenue Branch Library. During the classes, students had the opportunity to work with artists Gloria Simons (stained glass ornaments), Margaret Barber (ceramic garden posts), Tara Sartorius (fused glass bracelets), and Darius Hill (monoprints and etchings). Students also had the opportunity to meet Stephen T. Johnson and Joelle Ford and view their works in the Museum.

Connections, the Museum-funded outreach series, offered art classes to more than 380 students during the school year and summer at Floyd Community Center, Bellingrath Community Center, Mount Meigs Department of Youth Services, and Bertha P. Williams Rosa Parks Avenue Branch Library. Art teachers trained by the Museum taught the students new techniques in drawing, painting, ceramics, and sculptures, with the lessons related to temporary or permanent exhibitions at the Museum. Once in every session during the year all students came for a field trip to the Museum to view first hand the works of art they had studied and to create a special art project in the studios.

In addition to programs scheduled with our outreach partners, we reached 400 participants for Zoo Earth Day and 250 during visits to Maxwell Air Force Base.

EDUCATION

The education department had a very successful year of programs, which introduced several new initiatives. In addition to a regular offering of tours, lectures, studio classes, and family programs, the education department featured Junior Curators, Homeschool Day, Muses (Teen Council) and a symposium for educators.

The ARTWORKS Corridor opening receptions were even more popular this year, attended by nearly 400 students and their families. Adding a special recognition ceremony during the

With funding assistance provided by a Hearst Foundations grant, the MMFA Education Department launched a new outreach program in September 2013, bringing weekly visual art classes to third grade students at Wares Ferry Road Elementary School. The classes consist of art studio lessons, classroom discussions guided by Visual Thinking Strategies and visiting artists.

FAMILY PROGRAMS

Family Art Affair: 400; Stephen Rolfe Powell Family Day: 750; FLIMP Chalk Competition: 390 students and adults; Homeschool Event: 130; BTW Event: 379

BTW Performance: In three original performances in November, the talented young dancers from the Booker T. Washington Magnet High School (BTW) Dance Theatre interpreted Stephen Rolfe Powell’s works of art in a choreographed fantasy about the spirits of broken glass fusing themselves back into their original sculptural forms. 379 students attended the BTW event, which was filmed and live streamed to schools who could not attend the event. The Museum honored Gary Moore, who retired this year as the creative director of the Dance Theatre, for his unique collaborations with the MMFA Education Department since 1990.

Family Art Affair: In addition to the annual Holiday Open House, FLIMP Festival, and Military Open House, special free family days were held on five Sundays during the year. These Family Art Affairs featured a variety of art making activities and music (Jazz Jams) and attracted a diverse audience, averaging 80 people for each event. The Fall Festival, with a spectacular glass blowing demonstration by Stephen Rolfe Powell, additional artist’s demonstrations, music and special hands-on activities, was especially popular, with 750 people in attendance. During the FLIMP festival in May, 390 students and adults participated in the Chalk Art Competition.

Homeschool Day: The MMFA offered a Homeschool Day this year, with “treasure hunts” in the galleries, special activities in ARTWORKS, art making in the studios, and drawing instruction on iPads. 130 home-schooled students and their families attended the event.

TEEN PROGRAMS

AP Art History (meets daily): Students: 26

Ten high school juniors and seniors graduated from the AP Art History class in the spring of 2013, and 16 high school students began the 2013-2014 academic year. Representatives from Booker T. Washington Magnet High School, Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School, LAMP Magnet High School, Montgomery Academy, Saint James School, Saint Jude, and Trinity Presbyterian School met to plan An Expressive Evening, the inaugural teen arts event. Dance, music, and dramatic readings were performed throughout the Museum, and a teen ARTWORKS Corridor exhibition accompanied the event. 100 people attended. The MUSES plan to host more teen events this coming year.

Teen Event: Muses

Dance, music, and dramatic readings were performed throughout the Museum, and a teen ARTWORKS Corridor exhibition accompanied the event. 100 people attended. The MUSES plan to host more teen events this coming year.
The Junior Curators
8 meetings, 1 program, 216 participants

The Education and Curatorial departments collaborated to form the very first Junior Curators program. Working in partnership with Emily Thomas and eleven Booker T. Washington Magnet High photography students, the Museum conducted monthly meetings that prepared students for planning an exhibition from concept to finish. Using photographs in the Museum’s collection, students developed three concepts, with one chosen for the final exhibition. Students also organized various educational components, including an opening gallery lecture, a gallery guide, and a hands-on lesson for the ARTWORKS interactive gallery. The 8 sessions, including the opening reception, included 216 participants for the year.

Word and Image Writing Workshop
Students: 16, Event Attendance: 50

In collaboration with Booker T. Washington Magnet High, Foster Dickson led an ekphrastic writing workshop for 16 students. The participants composed originals prose and poetry in response to works in the Museum’s Collection.

Programs for Adults

Collectors Society
Members: 52

Over 50 members of Collectors Society enjoyed seven meetings, including visits to private homes, museums, artists’ studios, and historic buildings. Presenters included collectors Gery Anderson, Nan and David Skier, and Kathelen and Dan Amos; artists Frank Fleming, Joelle Ford, Stephen Johnson, and Stephen Rolfe Powell; Kristen Miller Zohn of the Columbus Museum and Docents of the High Museum.

Lectures and Panel Discussion
Events: 5, Attendance: 368

The five lectures and a panel discussion presented at the Museum were attended by 368 people. Presenters included Peter Morrin of the University of Louisville, Cartledge Blackwell of the Mobile Historical Development Commission, Bernard L. Herman of UNC Chapel Hill; Tim Brown, MMFA Curator of Education, Diane Wright of Pilchuck Glass School, and artists Alison Foshee, Rune Olsen, and Paul Villinski with MMFA Curator of Art Jennifer Jankauskas.

Gallery Talks and Film Screening
Events: 12; Attendance: 360

The 11 gallery talks held at the Museum were attended by 360 people.

Presenters included artists Stephen Rolfe Powell, Joelle Ford, Jake Wagnon, Annie Han and Daniel Mihalyo of Lead Pencil Studio, Yvonne Wells and Museum Curators. Included in the talks were a screening of the documentary Mr. Dial has Something to Say with follow up discussion in the exhibition, and the popular Evening with the Curator series.

Ekphrasis Book Club
Meetings: 8, Attendance: 297

During this past year, the book club featured a range of fiction and nonfiction books, including Susan Vreeland’s Passion of Artemisia, Ross King’s Brunelleschi’s Dome, and Tracy Chevalier’s Girl with a Pearl Earring, to name a few. In addition to Skype interviews with Susan Vreeland and Harriet Scott Chessman, the book club featured its first guest author, Elizabeth Robards Thompson, who gave a special presentation that addressed topics related to her novel With Violets.

ARTtalk
Participants: 82

The attendance for this long-standing program, which offers an opportunity for artists to bring a work of art to the Museum and have friendly feedback about the work, increased this year, with a total of 82 people participating in the informative and fun sessions.

Montgomery Public School Tours

Tours of the Museum were provided to both fifth graders and kindergarteners of the Montgomery Public School system free of charge. Throughout the year, the docents led pre-tour outreach sessions, visiting 36 schools, 122 classes (2,598 students) of fifth grade students in the Montgomery Public Schools. Following the docent visits, 2,598 Montgomery Public School fifth graders toured the Museum’s permanent collection and created landscape paintings in the studios. “The American Scene,” the curriculum-based tour launched in fall 2012, included a role-playing component.

Other Tours

The Museum created a Visual Thinking Strategies (VTS) tour program in partnership with the Montgomery Academy. VTS methods of engagement include facilitated discussion with open-ended questions and student-centered responses that promote critical thinking and oral communication skills. Sixteen classes, totaling 387 students, from Halcyon Elementary and Montgomery Academy attended VTS tours.

Sundays at One, a free docent-led tour held on Sundays from 1 to 2 P.M., hosted approximately 1,000 visitors during the 2012-2013 year. In addition, docents and staff led 80 groups for a total of 5,533 participants in gallery tours. Self-guided tours were also available to the public. Over 2,000 participants visited the Museum on scheduled, self-guided tours.

TEACHER WORKSHOPS

Making Connections: A Symposium for Teachers, Docents, and Museum Educators

Attendance: 75

The Education department invited Nancy Jones, Visual Thinking Strategies (VTS) spokesperson and educator, to conduct training sessions about the basics of VTS. VTS uses art to teach thinking, communication skills, and visual literacy to young people. Growth is stimulated by three things: looking at art with increasing complexity, responding to developmentally-based questions, and participating in group discussions that are carefully facilitated by teachers. The symposium also included workshops that addressed technology solutions for docent training, resources in the classroom, studio applications for VTS, and tour logistics.

Art Ed Central

Teachers: 87

A regional division of the Alabama Art Education Association, this unique program offered an opportunity for teachers and guest artists to share lesson plan ideas, view art in the Museum’s galleries, create hands-on art projects, network with other professionals, and earn certification credit hours each month during the school year.

STUDIO CLASSES AND WORKSHOPS

Art Instructors: 21; Children and Adults: 2,225; After School Programs: 20 After School Participants: 400; Summer Camps: 1,220

A full range of studio classes, from instruction in iPad usage, drawing and painting (watercolor, oil, acrylics and mixed media) to stained glass, fused glass, ceramics, mosaics, and stone sculpture, were taught by 21 different professional artists during the year, and attended by 2,255 children and adults. Well-known guest artists from the Montgomery area, Charleston and Greenville, S.C., and Chattanooga, Tenn. offered informative weekend workshops for adults. After school art classes were attended by an average of 20 students per week for 20 weeks, reaching 400 participants for the year. Summer camps were also very successful, featuring eight morning and afternoon camps, with a total attendance of 1,085 participants. Also during the summer, 135 students attending Camp Sunshine visited the Museum and enjoyed a special studio activity.

PRE-K AND KINDERGARTEN PROGRAMS

Kindergarten Puppet Show: 4,312 students; Pre-K programs: 811 preschoolers and parents.

“Colors of the City” is the MMFA’s annual puppet show for kindergarten students held every spring. Organized in partnership with the Montgomery Public School System, the puppet show reached 4,312 (157 classes) kindergarten students. Other puppet shows for the public reached 1,200 participants (60 classes, plus individuals).

Pre-K programs are designed for preschoolers and their parents. Tales for Tots was offered 12 times for a total of 458 participants; Art Play was offered 11 times for a total of 138 participants; Play with Clay was offered four times for a total of 93 participants; and, Young Artists was offered nine times for a total of 122 participants.

MUSEUM STORE

The Museum Store features original art created by over 100 local and regional artists and offers some of the best shopping for distinctive gifts in the River Region. The Store has a selection of art books pertaining to the Museum’s collection, artists, and special exhibitions. Artist Market, an annual art fair held the weekend before Thanksgiving, provides an opportunity for the community to interact with a variety of regional artists, while also providing a quality hand-crafted shopping experience. Artist in Action, held the first Wednesday and third Saturday of the month in 2012-2013, allowed the community to interact with our local artists and see them at work.
The 2012-2013 audited financial report for the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts reflects another successful year. The combined public and private operating income totaled $3,960,547. City support came to $3,039,646 and the Association contributed $920,901. A final audited report of the year’s financial results may be obtained upon request from the Museum’s Accounting Department.
