Enrollment for AP Art History Course Now Underway

Montgomery, Alabama-Area teens who are fascinated with exploring art from a historical perspective can now turn their curiosity into a grade. Starting August 13, 2014, students can enroll in a AP Art History course that will allow them to explore major forms of artistic expression including architecture, sculpture, painting, and other media from across a variety of cultures.

The course will be offered daily from 7:25 to 8:15 A.M. Those selected will also get the opportunity to encounter original artwork from collections not only here in Montgomery, but Birmingham and Atlanta too. Although AP Art is a challenging and fun program, it could lead to participants developing a lifelong love of museums and fine art.

To enroll in the class please contact anovak@mmfa.org or visit mmfa.org for an application.
