The FliMP Festival Guarantees Entertainment for the Entire Family

Montgomery, AL—Come enjoy a day packed with imagination, creativity, and art at the annual FliMP Festival, Saturday, May 2, 10 A.M. to 2 P.M. There will be a variety of art-related activities and entertainment ranging from sidewalk chalk art, theatrical and musical performances, and a treasure hunt. You also won't want to miss Booker T. Washington High School students displaying their amazing talents in visual and performing arts.

It all kicks off at 10 A.M. Saturday morning with the registration for the Do-Dah Pet Parade, which will start at 10:30. Bring your dog, bird, cat, or any other animal decked out in their favorite costume to this stroll around the Museum parkway. The Montgomery Biscuits' mascot Miss Gravy will be the Grand Marshal this year.

This festival will also feature Dave Holland, an artist with a world-beat sound. Make sure to check out his interactive music circles, and drums from around the world.

Admission is $5 for adults, $3 for children, FREE to MMFA members and active-duty military and their immediate family. Hamburgers, hot dogs, soft drinks, and shaved ice will be available for purchase.

For more information on the event and to pre-register your pet, visit www.mmfa.org.

The MMFA, a department of the City of Montgomery, is supported by funds from the City of Montgomery and the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts Association. Programs are made possible, in part, by a grant from the Alabama State Council on the Arts. Exhibition programs are supported by a grant from the Poarch Band of Creek Indians.
