MESSAGE TO OUR MEMBERS

This past year has been a time of transition for the Museum—in many areas. The most important was Mark Johnson’s retirement in August. For 23 years, Mark led the Museum in acquiring important works of art, creating and bringing in wonderful exhibitions, strengthening its educational and outreach programs, expanding the facilities, and maintaining an institutional commitment to work of high quality. His contributions are a substantial legacy that he can be proud of and for which we at the Museum are deeply grateful.

Board President Leslie Sanders and Mayor Todd Strange worked together with Mark’s family and the staff to celebrate his retirement and to honor his service. They also asked me to serve as interim director while the Search Committee seeks a successor to Mark. We hope the Board will be able to announce the appointment this summer.

One of Mark’s major legacies is a project that is still in progress: the John and Joyce Caddell Sculpture Garden. At the end of the 2017 fiscal year, construction work was nearly complete, and the landscape design was underway. After completion of the construction, the landscaping, and the lighting system, we will begin installing works of sculpture for our first exhibition. The Board and staff are planning a series of opening celebrations beginning in September 2018. Sculpture Garden Committee Chairman Barrie H. Harmon III continues to lead the project, as well as the fund-raising efforts to cover its costs. We are all grateful to Barrie for the time and hard work he is putting into this project.

As you will see in the rest of this Report, the year has been an eventful and productive one in many other areas of Museum services, but let me end my comments with some personal observations. My family and I have been members of the MMFA Association and regular visitors to the Museum for more than 35 years, and we have always regarded it as one of Montgomery’s most important assets. Now, after my months as interim director, I have a much more detailed knowledge of the Museum’s collections, its programs and services, and,
most importantly, the staff and volunteers who make it such an exciting and attractive place. From the annual Military Open House to rotating displays of art by local students, from book talks to ArtWorks, from school tours to hosting important traveling exhibitions—the Museum is truly a place of education and enrichment for all of us.
Now, we look forward to welcoming a new director who will build on the Museum’s very strong past and help lead it into a new era of service. Its future success, however, still depends on all of us staying engaged and continuing our support. The great thing is that the activities of the Museum are so enjoyable that they fully repay the time and effort we put into them, as I can testify from personal experience. With your support, the Museum will continue to offer programs and services that enrich life in Montgomery and that make our community a better place for all of us.

Edwin C. Bridges,
Interim Director

The Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts is grateful to our generous members and donors for another successful year of strong individual and corporate support. A combination of enthusiastic volunteers, member benefits, and the importance of the Museum to South/Central Alabama resulted in a total of $149,573 raised through Individual Donations and Corporate Sponsorships. Individual, Family, and Corporate Memberships generated another $240,117.

Sculpture Garden
The John and Joyce Caddell Sculpture Garden broke ground in late 2016. Completion is expected in 2018. Led by Committee Chair Barrie H. Harmon III, the Sculpture Garden Committee and Museum staff have worked with architect Jim Barganier and landscape designer Fairlie Rinehart to create a new outdoor space for entertainment, exhibition, and enjoyment of outdoor art activities, including water features, lawns, a secret garden, and an education courtyard in the 2.14 acre site. The Museum is grateful for the guidance and support of the City of Montgomery, the many generous donors to this project, and Sculpture Garden Committee Chair Barrie H. Harmon III and dedicated Committee members Carl Barker, Cathy Caddell, Ginny Cumbus, Camille Elebash-Hill, Dr. Bonner Engelhardt, Peggy Mussafer, Winston Wilson Reese, Adam Schloss, Roger Spain, Winnie Stakely, Janet Waller, Dr. Laurie Jean Weil, and Emily Wootten.

Director’s Circle
With 106 members in this philanthropically-focused group, the Director’s Circle level of major individual and corporate donors remains vitally important to the Museum’s financial stability. Director’s Circle level members support exhibitions, programming, and operations with their generous contributions to the Museum. On April 3, 2017, 117 guests gathered at the Museum to enjoy the annual Director’s Circle Dinner, hosted by Director Mark Johnson and his wife Amy along with longtime sponsors of the dinner, Jack Ingram Motors & Mercedes-Benz, Inc., and The Colonial Company.

Membership
The Museum had 899 members during the fiscal year. Membership includes many benefits including invitations to artist talks and opening receptions and reciprocal relationships with other museums in North America. Members at all levels enjoy discounts on classes, purchases at the Museum Store, and meals at Café M. Members are also invited to be part of the Museum’s book club, Docent Program, and Collectors Society.
Junior Executive Board

Under the guidance of 2017 JEB President Rachael Gallagher, the Junior Executive Board focused on bringing new faces to the Museum and channeling their fundraising efforts to benefit youth programming and education needs. This was accomplished by several events the group hosted at the Museum throughout the year, Last Call and Art in Concert.

Last Call evenings were held seasonally, timed to take place in the final days of exhibitions. These events are a way for the Junior Executive Board to give young professionals a unique networking venue and recruit their friends and colleagues to visit and support the Museum. Last Call events feature local food and drink sponsors, prize packages and a “stock the cellar” raffle to benefit the Education Department’s programming.

Art In Concert was held on October 14, 2016, and featured Daniel Ellsworth and the Great Lakes. The concert was held on Museum grounds, where concert-goers from across Alabama gathered to experience the indie rock band under the stars with a beautiful view of the Museum. JEB raised approximately $10,000 through ticket sales and sponsorships to benefit the Museum’s education programs.

Collectors Society and Member Travel

Total Attendance: 217

Collectors Society is a group of engaged Museum members who meet throughout the fall, winter, and spring to further their knowledge of art and collections. They began their season of gatherings with a gallery talk by artist Federico Uribe. Over the course of the year, the group enjoyed several off-site trips, including a visit to the Atlanta Botanical Garden to see an installation by glass artist Dale Chihuly. An excursion to the Birmingham Museum of Art featured a contemporary exhibition, Third Space, following a tour of a Michael Straus’s warehouse gallery. Their schedule also included a creative opportunity, making Japanese-inspired ceramics with Dr. Scott Meyer of Montevallo. At gatherings held at the Museum, Collector’s Society members enjoyed hearing from Artist Market’s featured artist Kathleen Nowak Tucci about her work and Spalding Nix of Atlanta about current trends in collecting.

Bazaar D’Art

On March 9, 2017, the Museum hosted more than 300 guests at its biennial fundraising auction, Bazaar d’Art.

This year’s Bazaar was held in Lowder Gallery, where more than 350 works of art were displayed for auction. Guests enjoyed a creative menu of hand-rolled sushi and Chinese takeout boxes while they bid via their mobile devices for a chance to take home new treasures.

The Museum is grateful for the outstanding leadership of event chair Mahaley McInnes and to the entire Bazaar committee for their commitment to making Bazaar d’Art 2017 a success.

Committee members include: Beth Acker, Mary Margaret Carroll, Ward Chesser, Mallory Combest, Derek Covington, Ben Cumbus, Taylor Dunn, Camille Elebash-Hill, Dr. Bonner Engelhardt, Julie Goodshy, Phyllis Hall, Ann Hubbert, Lucy Jackson, Gage LeQuire, Cathy Martin, Sommer Morris, Michelle Mowery, Brooke Reid, Sheryl Rosen, Julie Salley, Gloria Simons, Melissa Tubbs, Dr. Laurie Jean Weil, and Ashley White.

Bazaar d’Art grossed $46,567 with all proceeds benefiting the Museum’s acquisition, exhibition, and education programs.

The Museum is grateful to Bazaar sponsors Max Credit Union and the MMFA Junior Executive Board.

EDUCATION
During 2016–2017, the Museum’s education division was strengthened with the hires of two new assistant curators of education, Kaci Norman and Elisabeth Palmer. Additionally, two new full-time positions were created. Laura Bocquin joined the team as outreach coordinator and Kelly Bazan as ArtWorks educator.

The year in programs was also defined by significant anniversaries. For the duration of the bicentennial celebration of Alabama, all fifth graders in the Montgomery Public School system will be participating in the Becoming Alabama tour program in which students explore Alabama history and culture. Following an introductory session in their classrooms, participants discuss works of art, create works of art, and enjoy music and storytelling. The Museum also marked the centennial anniversary of the First World War by co-hosting a special program with the Montgomery Area Business Council on the Arts. A lecture and reception featured the artist, British sculptor James Butler, and patron, Rod Frazer, of the Rainbow Soldier statue which was later installed in front of Union Station in downtown Montgomery.

TOUR PROGRAM
Total Attendance: 14,273
Total Attendance for Guided Tours: 11,381
MPS System-Wide Tours Attendance: 8,049
Other Scheduled Guided Tours: 4,599
Weekend Drop-in Tours: 293
Total Attendance for Self-Guided Tours: 2,892
Group Self-Guided Tours: 1,184
Cell Phone Tours: 1,708

The majority of tours were offered to elementary school students visiting the Museum’s permanent collection. As noted above, the new Becoming Alabama tour program greatly enhanced curriculum-based offerings at the Museum. Designed for Montgomery Public School (MPS) fifth graders and emphasizing both visual arts and social studies standards, the tour leads students in creating, presenting, responding to, and connecting to art while focusing on the history of the state of Alabama. Students are exposed to the state’s art and artists, its history, and its significance to the history of the United States. Through 2019, all MPS fifth graders will participate, exploring art representing different eras of Alabama in the galleries, learning about geography and Greek culture in ArtWorks, and creating their own Stars Over Montgomery artwork inspired by the Cappy Thompson window titled, Stars Falling on Alabama: We are Enraptured by the Celestial Fireworks of the Muses. The content of the tour program is driven by Alabama history and is intended to help students make connections between what they learned in fourth grade and the broader history of the United States, which they are currently studying. In addition to seeing all MPS fifth graders, the Museum also hosted all MPS kindergarten students for a brief tour following a puppet show. Other popular tours at the Museum included visits to William Shakespeare’s First Folio for English classes from the River Region and beyond. Federico Uribe: Transformat was also a popular tour offering with all ages, including a special experience for visitors with memory loss as part of the Museum’s partnership with Respite Ministry. Philanthropist and collector Jordan Schnitzer made it possible for MPS high school students to visit the Frank Stella exhibition beginning in the fall. In total 60 Montgomery Public Schools and 197 other schools enjoyed tours at the Museum this year.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH
Total Attendance: 6,203
Learning Through Art: Artist in Residence Program
Attendance: 3,510

During the fourth year of the Museum’s partnership with Wares Ferry Road Elementary School, the Learning Through Art: Artist in Residence Program continued to enhance the curricula of the third and fourth grades with weekly art classes at the school for 76 third graders and 78 fourth graders. Additionally, two interns gained valuable teaching experience.

Building upon the founding principles of Learning Through Art, students engaged with artwork from the Museum’s collection through Visual Thinking Strategies sessions—discussing their opinions as a group—followed by writing about their individual interpretations of the pieces discussed. After those exercises, students created their own works of art based on their discoveries. In addition to the dynamic Museum instructors, throughout the year, local artists shared their creative talents with the students. Visiting teaching artists for the 2016–2017 school year included Barbara Davis, Donna Pickens, Enid Probst, Richard Sabo, Sarah Struby, and Laura Vahlberg.

The Museum and School celebrated the end of the year with an exhibition of student art at the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts, in which each third and fourth grade artist was represented by one piece they made during the school year. In the largest MMFA exhibition of student art to date, over 150 pieces were hung salon style, showing off the students’ year of creative growth and personal expression.

Learning Through Art was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Montgomery.
Art in the Afternoon

Attendance: 1,441

Art in the Afternoon brought extra-curricular art lessons to students at various locations in the community who otherwise would not have access to creative enrichment. Participants included youth from E. D. Nixon Community Center and the Chisholm Boys and Girls Club and adjudicated teens at the Mt. Meigs Campus for Alabama Department of Youth Services. During the quarterly series of classes, participants engaged in art making inspired by concurrent Museum exhibitions. Over the year, students made ceramic and mixed-media sculptures, acrylic and watercolor paintings, ink prints, and mixed-media collages. Where off-campus excursions were possible, students also visited the Museum each quarter to view in person the artwork that inspired their own creations.

Additionally, a partnership with Bridge Builders Alabama launched Art in the Afternoon at Valiant Cross Academy, where high school seniors taught the sixth and seventh grades weekly after-school art classes. Working closely with the Museum’s staff, the student teachers developed a year-long curriculum to teach the younger students about various movements and styles of art, utilizing the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts’ permanent collection.

STUDIO CLASSES AND WORKSHOPS
Attendance: 1,147

Pre-K and Youth Classes Attendance: 448
Pre-K and youth participants enjoyed lessons in painting, sculpting, textiles, and ceramics, drawing inspiration from Museum exhibitions. Favorite classes such as Young Artists and After School Art were offered throughout the year. The Museum also offered special homeschool studio classes in connection with the Frank Stella exhibition.

Summer Art Camps Attendance: 641
Weeklong summer art camps, including the first teen camp (focused on photography), engaged young artists in the galleries and the studios. Youth camps focused on different elements of art and techniques: Color, Value, and Pattern (Still-life); Line, Rhythm, and Movement (Landscapes); and Shape, Form, and Texture (Portraits).

Studio classes for adults included a quilt-making workshop with Ellen Baker, still-life class with Elana Hagler, whose work was included in the 42nd Montgomery Art Guild Museum Exhibition, and summer painting with Sandra Hicks Larson.

FAMILY PROGRAMS
Total Attendance: 5,567
Family Art Affair, Jazz Jams, Native American Family Day, Flimp Festival, Military Open House, and Holiday Open House all proved popular again this year, bringing families together for crafts, music, dancing, storytelling, and more at the Museum. Visitors also enjoyed the activities in the Blount Cultural Park during the First Folio! family days co-hosted with the Alabama Shakespeare Festival. The Museum’s signature event, the Flimp Festival, presented in partnership with Booker T. Washington Magnet High School, celebrated artist Yvonne Wells whose story quilts often feature Alabama subjects. The Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts also began hosting family films with Night at the Museum.

PRESCHOOL AND YOUTH PROGRAMS
ArtWorks Interactive Gallery Attendance 54,461
Total Preschool and Youth Program Attendance: 2,225
For young learners, the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts offered Tales for Tots (496), a monthly program focused on art and storytelling in the galleries, and performances of the Art of Baking puppet show (400). Visitors also enjoyed ArtWorks drop-in activities and the new program Earth’s Heart: The Human Connection (856). Youth programs included the homeschool event (67), which focused on American history, and the Flimp Chalk Art Competition (406). This two-day competition brought participants from schools to the Museum’s parking lot to create quilt-themed works in chalk inspired by featured artist Yvonne Wells.

The ArtWorks gallery was sponsored by Alabama Power.
The Art of Baking puppet show was sponsored by Winifred and Charles Stakely.

TEEN PROGRAMS
Total Attendance: 1116
AP Art History
Total Attendance: 930
Created in 1998, the AP Art History program was in its second year of a new national curriculum focused on in-depth analysis of art with greater emphasis on the art of global cultures. In addition to meeting daily at the Museum for class, the students were exceptionally involved in the life of the Museum. Several were leaders on the Muses teen council and almost all selected art history or art as their college majors. The Museum continues to offer one of only two AP Art History courses in the River Region, and scores on the national exam are consistently very competitive. All six students worked hard and passed the exam, earning the equivalent of college credit, with many earning superior scores of 4.2 out of 5.

AP Art History was sponsored by the BBVA Compass Foundation.
Muses Teen Council

Total Attendance: 176

Highlights of the Muses this year included behind-the-scenes experiences, such as interviewing installation artist Federico Uribe and subsequently publishing an eloquent piece on the MYMMFA Blog. The annual arts showcase for teens, An Expressive Evening, was defined not only by a range of high-quality artistic expressions but also comedic hosts. The teen council continued to work to create a welcoming and inspiring atmosphere for their peers.

Teen Programs were sponsored by the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts Junior Executive Board.

TEACHER PROGRAMS

Total Attendance: 176

The Museum hosted teacher workshops in connection with the First Folio! exhibition as well as the Learning Through Art: Artist in Residence Program, Art Ed Central, a regional division of the Alabama Art Education Association, continued to be a popular professional development opportunity for area art educators. The Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts’ education staff also led sessions during the Alabama Institute for Educators in the Arts conference.

UNIVERSITY PROGRAMS

Total Attendance: 84

Huntingdon College co-hosted a college night on Shakespeare’s First Folio. The Museum also partnered with Alabama State University to offer an evening of creative writing based on the painting View of Montgomery and a separate discussion of the Alice Walker story “Everyday Use” in relation to quilts on view in the temporary galleries.

ADULT PROGRAMS

Total Attendance: 1838

Lectures, Gallery Talks, and Films

Total Attendance: 778

Featured guest speakers for the year included artist Federico Uribe, who spoke following the opening of his popular immersive exhibition; Jennifer Swope (Fleischman Lecturer) of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, who spoke about the groundbreaking quilt exhibition co-organized by the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts and the Alabama Department of Archives and History; and Dr. Richard Axsom (Fleischman Lecturer), author of the catalogue raisonné of Frank Stella prints. He illuminated the collection loaned by philanthropist Jordan Schnitzer.

Short Course

Total Attendance: 419

The Museum worked with community partners to present varied short course offerings. With the Alabama Shakespeare Festival and Huntingdon College, Shakespeare Today was offered, and it also featured the Montgomery Chorale. Alabama Quilts was offered with the Alabama Department of Archives and History. Short Courses also addressed temporary exhibitions, including the OnExhibit course, Rodin, and Pairs and Partners, designed for in-depth discussion comparing and contrasting specially selected works of art.

Ekphrasis Book Club

Total Attendance: 341

One of the benefits of being a member of the Museum is an invitation to be part of the monthly book club, featuring works of fiction and non-fiction that address art related topics. Special meetings this year included a look at Shakespeare in art led by Curator Margaret Lynne Ausfeld and a visit from guest speaker Jim Barganier, who spoke about Frank Lloyd Wright, as depicted in Loving Frank. In addition, Educator Alice Novak led the book club in a discussion of War and Turpentine, marking the centennial of the First World War.

ArtTalk

Total Attendance: 95

ArtTalk had another successful year as a forum for artists to share their work, receive feedback from fellow aesthetes, and further inspire their creative processes. Participants met once every other month in the Museum’s conference room and brought one work of art each to engage in the critique.

Heart to Heart

Total Attendance: 205

Participants from Respite Care Ministry for individuals with memory loss enjoyed discussion in the galleries and sing-a-longs in the auditorium, featuring their Side by Side Choir.
DOCENT TRAINING PROGRAM
Total Attendance for Docent Training: 903
Docents trained on curriculum-based tours, special exhibitions, and more in order to provide outstanding educational experiences for visitors and the community. They also led Family Art Affair and Tales for Tots educational programs and a short course for AUM’s Osher Lifelong Learning Institute. They offered tremendous support to the education staff during a year in transition. Finally, in the fall they eagerly greeted their new leader Elisabeth Palmer, assistant curator of education, docent and adult programs. The docent council was also instrumental in organizing an overnight art trip to Nashville for their fellow volunteer educators.

INTERNS
Volunteer Interns: 7
The following interns volunteered at the Museum making rich contributions and gaining meaningful project-based experience: Sharisma Bell (public relations and education), Barbara Bradley (education), Amelia Chase (Learning Through Art), Presley Langley (graphic design), Sarah Beth Parker (Education), Ivy Scott (education and curatorial), and Abigail Wade (Learning Through Art).

SPECIAL PROJECT VOLUNTEERS
Active Volunteers: 96 Volunteers (1548 hours)
Special project volunteers enthusiastically assisted with many large-scale community activities. The Museum is fortunate to have a willing and consistent team to help keep our premier events running smoothly. The First Impressions volunteers have also been working towards new ways of engaging the public, including a new Welcome Desk approach and collecting more data from visitors.

MARKETING AND PUBLIC RELATIONS

The Museum continued its strong partnerships with local, regional, and national media. Special thanks to WSFA, WAKA, WNCF, WTSU, WVAS, Boom!, Cumulus Broadcasting, The Montgomery Advertiser, River Region Living, Montgomery Parents, The Montgomery Independent, Prime Montgomery, and RSVP Montgomery. The promotional efforts, along with continued press coverage of exhibitions and programs, led the Museum to an attendance of 98,341 and $68,050 in earned print media for 2016–2017.

OnExhibit, the quarterly members’ magazine with a circulation of nearly 1,900, chronicled the special exhibitions and events taking place at the Museum.

MUSEUM STORE

The Museum Store features original art created by over 100 local and regional artists and offers some of the best shopping for distinctive gifts in the River Region. The Store has a selection of art books pertaining to the Museum’s collection, artists, and special exhibitions. Artist Market, an annual art fair held the weekend before Thanksgiving, provides an opportunity for the community to interact with a variety of regional artists while providing a quality hand-crafted shopping experience. Artist in Action, held in conjunction with Divine Lunch, provided a space for the community to interact with our local artists and see them at work. The Museum Store has a gross income of $69,135.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Unique, sophisticated, unforgettable...wedding receptions, rehearsal dinners, corporate dinners and presentations, school performances and professional concert series. Almost 130 events were held at the Museum in the past year, raising $138,399 to support a host of Museum programs. In addition to private events, the Museum hosted opening receptions for exhibitions, Artist In Action, Art in Concert, the seventh annual Artist Market, Divine Lunch, Holiday Open House, the Flimp Festival, Jazz Jams, Military Open House, and Native American Family Day.
