

WHO AM I?

A GARDEN SCAVENGER HUNT

Use the clues to discover the name of each sculpture.
Answers are at the bottom of page.

1. I look like I would be soft to touch, but don't try it!
My distinct color comes from a reaction that happens when metal is left out in the air. Before you look at my title; can you strike the same pose?
2. Bee-Bop, Zing, whirrrr! Human, can you determine where I am? I guard this space but if you have the correct answer I will let you in!
3. Just by looking at me you would never guess that I am inspired by a racetrack! My colors are familiar to most and so is my shape. I look like you might play with me at the beach but I am much too heavy!
4. My title might not be familiar but I know you have seen me. At some point I would even bet you picked me from the grass and blew on me- sending little feathery umbrellas through the air. Some call me a weed, but everyone calls me a dandelion. Which sculpture do you think I am?
5. Come look inside! I am a little topsy-turvy but very sturdy. What things might find shelter inside my walls? Are they real or make-believe? I have some familiar shapes like triangles and circles. Can you find me?
6. Are we waiting for something or just passing by?
Do we know each other? What do you think we are talking about? After learning my title, what do you think it going on?

Answers: 1. Reclining Nature 3 by Karen LaMonte; 2. The Children's Gate by Vincent Buwalda; 3. Stadium Sphere no. 1 by Chris Boyd Taylor; 4. Taraxacum by Jamey Grimes; 5. Rough 'n Tumble by Patrick Dougherty; 6. Chance Meeting by George Segal

MMFA

Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts